Eric Frykman MD, MPH, MBA joined the Riverside Community Health Agency as Director and Public Health Officer in February 2007. Previously, he was the Health Officer Chief of Disease Control & Prevention for San Bernardino County Department of Public Health. He enjoys being involved in many community-based activities to improve the health of those communities and, as part of a team, develops local response plans for public health emergencies. Decreasing the obesity rates of the public and tackling health inequalities are passionate interests for him. During the Kosovo conflict in 1999, he and his wife volunteered to help the refugees in Macedonia. He has worked in Bangladesh, Mexico, and Russia as well. He and his wife Ayme have five precious children.
